Great for Beginners

"My husband is a "newbie" to Family History. When he came out of the RootsTech 2016 class on The Family History Guide, he was raving about how wonderful it was. I knew then that it had to be shared. I've been looking at the presentation materials on the site and will be using them. It really is a great website—thank you for bringing it together."

"I am a beginner in family history, intimidated with all the technicalities of how it all works. I've gone through videos on the Introduction page of The Family History Guide, and it looks like your site might be just what I need. Thank you."

Great Training Materials

"I'm doing a presentation ... I was going to make a handout then discovered you have thought of EVERYTHING. Thank you! I so much appreciate those that use their talents for good in helping others. The more I use The Family History Guide the more I see how useful it will be. I have already shown several do-it-yourselfers who have come into our FHC for guidance—it will be perfect for those people. And teaching from this site will be very helpful. Thank you!!"

"We have trained the 60+ staff members at our family history center to promote The Family History Guide—we love it! I had the opportunity to teach two Family History Classes a few weeks ago and I taught all about your product. The students were thrilled to know about your great work. THANK YOU!!!"

"Our stake is having a Family History Fair in May, and they asked me to do the same presentation that I did last year. I told them, 'We have something MUCH BETTER!' I already told everyone about Family History Guide when we returned from the RootsTech convention. I took the stake consultants and others in the family history center that night through the program—they were all excited."
